SubArachnoid Space and Walking Timebombs

‘The Sleeping Sickness’ CD

E+J Recordings catalog number: EAJ004

teenagers paint with sludge and sound

SubArachnoid Space
and Walking Timebombs

Scott ‘Pain Teens’ Ayers brings a full realization to the now well-known SubArachnoid Space sound.

They begin with the circling, effect drenched guitars, while an almost motorik rhythm pins everything down. This gradually evolves into more complex patterns.

Flowing waves of dripping psychedelia drown the listener in bliss.

Natural uninhibited live ambience of the five members locking into what they do best.

Seeping bass lines ease their way through the extended foray into your subconscious.

Comparisons with Fushitsusha are fruitless, as while occupying similar territories, they are most certainly travelling along more subtle planes.

This recording serves as a fitting Testament to the original lineup and creates a place in your memory that you sense was always there.
